Switch Panels

You can have the best electrical and wiring system on your street rod, off-road rig or race car, but without the proper switches and components to activate each circuit, it's just not going to matter.

Painless Performance offers a number of different switch panels and components to help you operate your car. Our Switch Panels are designed to handle the harsh vibrations and conditions of competition including a 6 or 8-switch panel complete with a momentary button for cranking. Or, you may also want to customize your panel with our Universal Switch Panels available with 4, 6 or 8-heavy duty switches.

We also offer weatherproof panel assemblies that feature a molded polyethylene liner to seal the switches from nasty conditions. Other accessories and options are available such as a key or button start switch, toggle switches or rockers and more. Contact Painless for your application or go to www.painlessperformance.com.
